

Executive Security Support

This course is designed to support Senior Executives who drive high value vehicles as part of their role.

Senior Executives who drive high value vehicles, especially in high crime areas, are placed at considerable risk.

Our Executive Security Support training has been carefully designed to minimise this risk and is delivered in line with your Duty of Care as an employer, thus forming a key element of your Driver Risk Management programme.

The course not only focuses on the individual needs of the Executive but provides hands-on security driving skills and teaches how to command your environment. The training is delivered by our hand-picked specialists with Police and Military experience.
